

Take the Technium Challenge...

Do you have ambitions to take the next step and put your business on the global stage? Would you like to win a free business passport to the UK and beyond? If so, the Technium Challenge is for you - a unique competition that could help you to realise your overseas expansion plans.

The Challenge is an international business planning competition that is ideal for smart New Zealand SMEs looking to grow globally – just ask last year's overall winner Xero, a leading web-based accounting provider headquartered in Wellington, which defeated companies from around the world to win a host of benefits including:

- Free UK office space for a year within a Technium Innovation centre and an intensive international touchdown support package
- Ongoing guidance and support for developing an international business plan
- Advice from a range of UK-based experts to assist in legal, marketing and general business matters

All Technium Challenge country finalists will be invited to attend a Learning Journey trip to Wales – an excellent opportunity to grow business networks and meet like-minded companies – with complimentary business-class airfare to the UK included.
